

Phishing can steal your identity!

"Phishing" scams are the use of fraudulent emails or other solicitations to lure users into sharing personal information that can be used for identity theft or other illegal activities. These messages often ask users to enter their sensitive information at a fake website that purports to belong to a legitimate organization.

If you right-click on the link and select properties, you can see that the actual URL is not the one listed in the email- a sure sign of Phishing!

Remember: No legitimate business (Banks, eBay, etc.) will ever contact you and require that you share your personal information (bank numbers/PIN, security questions, passwords, etc.)

Don't get hooked like a phish! Don't respond to these emails! Delete them!
